Amalgamations in the British Army 1660- 2008
Goff Lumley's first volume looked at Regiments and Mergers in the British Army 1907-2007. Thanks to his extensive knowledge he has now undertaken the compiling and writing of a set of books dealing with the British Army from 1660 to 2008, once more illustrated with his superb cap badge drawings. However this book is much more than the title says: he has put together in this first volume a genealogical history of the regular element British Army in a very concise yet clear compass. Other authors have tried and failed to come up with his simple yet comprehensive treatment of what is a very complex subject. Already well reviewed the book seems set to become a 'must have' for all historians of the British Army since the Restoration. It is augmented with jacket drawings of facings and form from the eighteenth century and a colonel's listing which existed before the line numbering system was introduced. ISBN: 9781847914736 £25.00

FIELDS OF CONFLICT: Battlefield Archaeology from the Roman Empire to the Korean War
Scott, D 700p. 2 volume Hardback. the ways in which battlefield archaeology clarifies our understanding of military tactics and strategy over the last 2000 years. These two volumes not only reveal new interpretations of classic battles, but show clearly how archaeology can be used regardless of geographic or temporal location, making this an ideal book for general reader and professional archaeologist or soldier alike. First showing the reader how to identify a battlefield from earthworks and particular artefacts, the authors then move to examining some of the best preserved battlefields in the world, from the ancient world, through the middle ages to World Wars I and II and the Korean war £97.50

HISTORY OF THE FIFTH (PRINCESS CHARLOTTE OF WALES') DRAGOON GUARDS: VOLUMES I & II
Pomeroy, Maj 5th Dragoon Guards had notched up a long roll call of battle honours, begining with the great victories of the Duke of Marlborough in the War of the Spanish Succession: Blenheim, Ramillies, Oudenarde, and Malplaquet. The Guards played their part in the Peninsular War, fighting in Wellington's great victory over Marshal Soult at Salamanca, and also fought under the Duke at Waterloo. In the Crimean War, the Guards formed part of General Scarlett's Heavy Brigade, charging at the battle of Balaclava. They fought in the Boer War, and in the Great War were present in both the opening and closing phases when calvary were able to play a role in open warfare - at Nery in 1914 and Harbonnieres in 1918. RED COAT GREEN MACHINE : Continuity in change in the British Army 1700 - 2000
Kirke, C Lt.Colonel 260p. This book is about the people in the Army, and the very human interactions between them in their daily lives. It marries the disciplines of Social Anthropology and Military History to provide a novel way of looking at the anatomy of the British Army at unit level from an entirely human perspective. Concentrating on the attitudes, expectations, and concerns expressed by the people involved, it sets out a set of simple models of life at regimental duty that can be used to describe, analyze and explain their behaviour over the past 300 years. The book is grounded on what soldiers of all ranks have said, using the author’s research interview material for the modern witnesses, and memoirs, diaries, and letters (published and unpublished) for earlier ones. £59.50

WILD GOOSE AND THE EAGLE: A LIFE OF MARSHAL VON BROWNE 1705-1757
DUFFY, C HARDBACK REPRINT Maximilian Ulysses Von Browne was Field-Marshal in the Austrian Imperial Army. In his early career he distinguished himself in the Italian Campaign of 1734. He was a lieutenant field marshal in command of the Silesian garrisons when in 1740 the Prussian army overran the province. He was present at Mollwitz, where he received a severe wound . In 1746 he served in the Italian campaign and the battles of Piacenza and Rottofredo. He became commander-in-chief in Bohemia in 1751, and field marshal two years later. He was still in Bohemia when the Seven Years' War opened with Frederick's invasion of Saxony (1756). Browne's army, advancing to the relief of Pirna was defeated by Frederick at Lobositz, but he drew off in excellent order, and soon made another attempt with a picked for ce to reach Pirna, by wild mountain tracks. In the campaign of 1757 he served under Prince Charles of Lorraine and was killed while leading a bayonet charge at the battle of Prague. £35.00
